

Major investment deals set to be announced at government's inaugural International Investment Summit as PM vows to 'remove needless regulation' declaring Britain open for business

Billions worth of investments in emerging growth sectors including AI and life sciences, and infrastructure are set to be unveiled by businesses and ministers at the government's inaugural International Investment Summit tod...