

Manchester momentum: Science and tech department officially launches new second home in Salford

Department for Science, Innovation and Technology announces that it will establish its second headquarters in Salford, Greater Manchester.