Lebanon heading to oblivion: Head of economic, social advisory body

Mon, 2023-02-20 23:09

BEIRUT: Lebanon could be headed to oblivion, the head of the country's independent advisory body warned on Monday.

Charles Arbid, president of the Economic and Social Council, told an emergency meeting at the headquarters of the General Labor Union that with no savior on the horizon, the nation risked spiralling out of control.

He said: "We fear that Lebanon as we know it is changing under the leaders who could not care less about its fate."
