

Military justice to be enhanced by digital overhaul

Military justice to undergo a digital overhaul, as current systems are replaced by modern software to benefit victims, investigators and wider policing services