

Military personnel help to accelerate UK vaccine programme

The Armed Forces have been working to support the rollout of the coronavirus vaccine programme with new deployments planned in Scotland and North West England.