

Millions to take home more cash as new guidance on Tipping is published

The government's Tipping Act is a step closer to coming into force, as today the Code of Practice is published and laid before Parliament. The new Code of Practice will protect the tips of more than 2 million workers giving ...