

Ministers in Davos to spotlight UK's investment offer to global business Leaders

Ministers will be banging the drum for Britain at Davos this week, with the most visible UK Government presence in recent years pitching the UK's investment offer to top business chiefs.