

Ministers set out blueprint for future of the railways through draft Rail Reform Bill

Draft bill sets out blueprint for bringing track and train together under a new Great British Railways, leveraging private sector innovation to benefit customers.