

Mission to explore life on Mars one step closer as UK team to replace Russian components for Mars Rover

A UK team has been awarded more than £10 million to replace Russian components in the Rosalind Franklin Mars Rover.