

MOD leads cross-government review into the UK's defence and security industrial strategy

A review that will revitalise the UK's defence and security industrial sectors and improve productivity has been launched.