

Money for school improvements

I have been making the case for more money to help our schools for some time. I have been keen to see money made available for the Holt and Forest for building improvement following visits to those schools.

This week the government has announced £136,880 for the Holt and £139,853 for Forest, which is welcome.