

More market warnings of recession and slowdowns.

The UK 10 year state borrowing rate fell to 0.43% today. Meanwhile the German share index was one of the worst performers, falling another 4.6% as some in the markets pencilled in a German recession.

Still no new economic actions from western governments or Central Banks.