

More than 250 trees planted as part of North East flood scheme

More than 250 trees are being planted in a Northumberland town to replace those lost during construction of a vital flood alleviation scheme.