

National Drought Group agrees further steps to manage drought now and in the long term

The group agreed further action to manage the current drought and work to reduce the risk of drought next year.