

NDA launches search for next generation of nuclear pioneers

The NDA group has launched its 2024 call for graduates to play a part in delivering its decommissioning mission and support one of the most important environmental programmes in the world.