

Nearly a million workers used flexible furlough in July

950,000 workers got back to work part-time in July according to new figures.