

New £1.8 million competition launched to support innovative transport solutions

The competition will award grants to businesses that seek to provide solutions to some of transport's most-pressing issues, including decarbonisation.