

New AI data centre being enabled by Coal Authority permits

The Coal Authority's permitting team have been supporting the development of a new AI data centre being built in Cambois, North East England.