

New appointments to board of Infected Blood Compensation Authority

Six non-executive directors with experience in healthcare, finance and local government have been appointed to the board of the Infected Blood Compensation Authority.