

New council powers to boost housebuilding and infrastructure

Thousands more homes across the country will be delivered quicker and more easily thanks to new planning changes announced today.