

New failure to prevent fraud guidance published

New corporate criminal offence will hold large organisations to account if they profit from fraud.