

New fleece of life for sheep project

A European sheep network has been given a new lease of life after securing funding for three years.