

New flood warnings for Etwall help communities be better prepared

The Environment Agency has improved the free flood warning system and is able to offer the communities of Etwall in Derbyshire better information about flooding.