

New measures set out to reduce net migration

The government's plan to reduce net migration has been bolstered by new measures announced today.