

New Office for Veterans' Affairs will ensure the UK leads the world in care for Armed Forces Veterans

The new office sits within the Cabinet Office and will pull together all functions of government, and better co-ordinate charity sector provision.