

New opportunities for North Sea oil and gas

The Government is taking further steps to support the UK's transition to net zero by confirming new licensing opportunities.