

New pollution prevention advice for fishing communities

The Environment Agency has released guidance setting out how port and harbour managers can protect marine life by responsibly managing resources and waste.