

New protections from rogue energy brokers

New government consultation will investigate introducing regulations for third-party services in the energy retail market to protect consumers and businesses.