

New report celebrates the positive impact of the cadet forces in Wales

A new independent report outlines the positive impact the cadet forces have on young people, adult volunteers and wider society in Wales.