

New roadmap for pro-growth regulation in UK space sector launched as Science Minister launches new National Space Operations Centre

New regulatory review for space sector has been published, and Science and Defence Ministers launch National Space Operations Centre.