

New RSV vaccine could prevent 5,000 infant hospitalisations

Study shows new RSV vaccine for pregnant women could prevent 5,000 hospitalisations and 15,000 emergency department attendances for infants.