

New rules that will continue work of UK to protect our seas go out for consultation

A new consultation on rules aimed at reducing illegal discharge of garbage into our seas is being launched by the Maritime and Coastguard Agency today.