

New service to provide enhanced support to personnel leaving the military

The Defence Transition Service will support people as they transition to civilian life.