

New statistics show the Conservatives haven't given enough attention to social housing – John Healey

John

Healey MP, Labour's Shadow Secretary of State for Housing, commenting on new statistics showing the number of new social rented homes has fallen to the lowest level since records began, said:

“After

the Grenfell Tower fire Theresa May admitted the Conservatives haven't given enough attention to social housing. These shocking figures show she was right.

“The

number of new social rented homes being built is now at the lowest level on record, and the number of new low-cost homes to buy is at just half the level it was under Labour.

“After

seven years of failure on housing the Chancellor must use the Budget to tackle the housing crisis.”
