

New UK investment to unlock billions to tackle root causes of irregular migration, climate change and growth crises

UK announces contribution to International Development Association (IDA), the World Bank's fund for the world's lowest income countries