

New UKHSA study provides more safety data on COVID-19 vaccines in pregnancy

Analysis by the UK Health Security Agency in women giving birth has reinforced international evidence that COVID-19 vaccines have good safety record in pregnant women.