

New valproate safety measures apply from 31 January

No one should stop taking valproate without advice from their healthcare professional