

New women's sport investment scheme kicks off first round with seven sports represented

The Department for Business and Trade's new Women's Sport Investment Accelerator scheme has held its first session, with seven different sports represented.