

News story: An open letter to vets to mark World Vet Day.

The Environment Secretary writes to those working in the veterinary profession, to thank them for the part they are playing at this time.