

News story: Design for new product safety marking

Government publishes design for the UK marking that would apply to certain products sold in the UK if the UK leaves the EU without a deal.