

News story: Environment Agency urges caution following rain over New Year

The Environment Agency has urged people to stay vigilant to the risk of flooding and stay away from swollen rivers.