

News story: Environment Bill resumes passage through Parliament

The landmark and world-leading legislation which will transform how we protect and enhance our environment has returned to Parliament.