

News story: Environment Secretary meets retailers and allergy groups as allergen labelling review progresses

Secretary of State Michael Gove has met with allergen groups and retailers to discuss proposed changes in the law around allergen labelling.