

News story: Improving collaboration to protect public health – MHRA and Care Quality Commission sign MoU

MHRA and Care Quality Commission (CQC) set out key principles to support their collaboration on improving public health.

Today we have set out how we will work more effectively with CQC in a new Memorandum of Understanding \(MoU\) (PDF, 200KB, 7 pages) .

CQC is the independent regulator of health and social care services in England. They also monitor the use of the Mental Health Act 1983 and protect the interests of people whose rights are restricted under the Act.

We have worked closely with CQC on alert systems, medicines issues and online healthcare services. Our working relationship helps maintain an effective regulatory system for health and adult social care in England, while promoting patient safety and high quality care.

The new MoU sets out the framework to support our joint working relationship. We agree on how to share information, to carry out regulatory functions and to benefit the public. These principles underpin the MoU:

- addressing overlaps and gaps in the regulatory framework and responsibilities
- cooperating openly and transparently
- respecting each other's independent status
- using resources and intelligence effectively and efficiently
