

News story: Joint statement published by the United Kingdom's Prime Minister and United States' President's top-level advisory councils on science and technology

The Prime Minister's Council for Science and Technology (CST) met with the President's Council of Advisors on Science and Technology (PCAST) today in Washington, D.C. to discuss shared science and technology priorities.