

News story: New Zealand consults on a new free trade agreement with the UK

This step reinforces existing commitments by both countries to begin negotiations for a future free trade deal after the UK has left the EU.