News story: Ofqual's approach to external quality assurance

Ofqual has published a guide for employers detailing the way in which we, as the statutory regulator of qualifications, approach the external quality assurance of end-point assessments. Today's publication adds to a suite of information and guidance that we have previously published in relation to our role.

We have also published a speech and associated slides by Phil Beach, Executive Director for Vocational and Technical Qualifications, from our recent employer engagement event.
