

News story: Schools urged to work together to continue raising standards

In a speech to school leaders, Lord Agnew says they should have freedom to make the right decisions for their schools