

Next steps set out to permanently cut business rates for the high street

Legislation has today been introduced to allow government, for the first time, to permanently cut business rates for retail, hospitality and leisure properties.