

NHS Test and Trace told a record number of people to self-isolate over Christmas week

During the week of 24 to 30 December, 684,747 people who had tested positive, and their contacts, were reached and told to self-isolate.